COMMITTEE OF EPISCOPALIAN HOUSE OF DEPUTIES FAVORS CHANGE IN PRAYER.

KIEV MURDER TRIAL CAUSE

Convention Held in Gotham Adopts Resolution Condemning Charge Made in Court in Russia.

New York, Oct. 17.—Jews and Turks will no longer be singled out as objects for special prayer by the Protestant Episcopal church. The deputies passed a motion condemning the reopening of the Kiev ritual murder case in Russia.

The Episcopalians also took steps to amend their prayer book by eliminating the passage in the Good Friday collect where Jews are classed with "infidels, Turks and heretics."

In presenting the resolutions regarding the Kiev trial Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, New York, said:

"Jews in this city are deeply moved by this matter. Jewish brethren have asked me to bring before this convention a protest, voicing the sentiments contained in a petition signed in England by the archbishop of Canterbury and by many bishops, clergy and laymen of the church."

The resolution said: "We call upon the archbishops, bishops and other members of the Holy Orthodox Eastern church of Russia to make formal pronouncement that charges of so-called 'ritual murders' are without foundation or justification in the teachings and practice of the religion of Israel."

"We remind them that in the early days of Christianity similar charges were made by ignorance and superstition against our own most holy religion."

The committee on prayer book of the house of deputies reported favorably on a proposition to amend the third collect in the Good Friday service by omitting the words, "all Jews, infidels, Turks and heretics" from the general prayer for humanity. Consideration of the committee's report was postponed, however, to permit discussion regarding a further amendment which proposed that this prayer be offered for "the ancient Jews and all athletes."

Kiev, Russia, Oct. 17.—The examination of witnesses was continued on Wednesday in the trial of Mendel Beiliss, accused of having committed a "ritual murder." Detective Polistchuk, who was prominent in the early investigation into the murder of the boy, Andrew Yushinsky, in testifying, virtually charged Krasovsky, the former head of the Kiev detective service, with poisoning Eugene Tcheberlak and his little sister Valentine, who, it was alleged, had seen Beiliss dragging off Yushinsky. He said he believed that both died from eating cakes which had been given to them by Krasovsky.

Krasovsky, as inspector of police, was engaged in the case, and in a report drawn up months ago gave it as his opinion that the killing had been done by a band of criminals, the head of which was Vera Tcheberlak, mother of the two children, Eugene and Valentine.

UNDERWOOD IS TARGET

HOBSON CALLS LEADER "DUM-MY" AND CLASH FOLLOWS.

"Does Any One Else Here Believe It?" Cries Accused Man and Congressmen Shout "No!"

Washington, Oct. 15.—Representative Hobson launched a hot attack against the senatorial campaign of Democratic Leader Underwood in the House Monday when he charged that his support of Underwood's presidential candidacy at the Baltimore convention was obtained under "false pretenses." Hobson had defended himself against charges by Representative Donovan of Connecticut of neglect of his official duties, when he branched off into an attack on Underwood. Hobson charged that Underwood in the recent presidential fight had the support of Thomas F. Ryan and Wall Street and liquor interests, and had obtained the backing of his home state through "false pretenses." Underwood demanded that Hobson furnish proof of his charges. Hobson admitted that his statement was based on the testimony of Senator Bankhead before the senate campaign fund investigating committee that Thomas F. Ryan had contributed a large sum of Underwood's presidential campaign fund.

"Now, is there any other reason the gentleman has?" demanded Underwood, "for saying that I am a tool and a dummy?"

"I think my friend is of the highest moral character," replied Hobson, "but I think he is the type of man that allows outside and perhaps improper interests to sit in and play in the game."

"What is the basis of your charge that I am a tool of the liquor interests?" demanded Underwood.

"I know the liquor interests tried to beat me in my district," replied Hobson, "and I believe they now are supporting you. 'If you were used as a dummy once you might be again.'"

"No interest or set of men ever dominated me," replied Underwood amid applause of the house.

MILITANT FLEES FROM POLICE

Dragged From Hall as Suffragettes With Benches and Chairs Severely Battle Officers.

London, Oct. 15.—After a fierce struggle the police arrested Miss Sylvia Pankhurst at Bow Neaths, in the east end of London, where she was making a speech. But when they got her outside the building, with the intention of placing her in a taxicab and rushing her to Holloway jail, the militants attacked the police so savagely they had to let her go and she escaped.

Miss Pankhurst, who has an uncompleted term of imprisonment to serve, was not recognized until she threw aside the disguise which enabled her to elude the police and enter the building. She had been speaking only a few minutes when police with drawn truncheons, entered the hall and made a rush for the platform.

The audience arose and chairs began to fly, the invaders being the objective point. Some of the people in the galleries even dropped benches on their heads.

The police succeeded in dragging Miss Pankhurst down to the floor of the house.

Concentrating the attack on the policemen who had the militant leader in their grasp, the women, with the assistance of several men, succeeded in tearing her from their grasp and she slipped away. Miss Zelle Emerson of Jackson, Mich., whose imprisonment caused such a furore several months ago, was one of those injured.

T. L. WOODRUFF DEAD 400 MINERS PERISH

FORMER LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF N. Y., PASSES AWAY.

Came to Metropolis a Poor Boy and Won Wealth and Political Fame by Own Efforts.

New York, Oct. 14.—Former Lieut. Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff died in his apartment on Sunday.

His condition had been critical for nearly two weeks after having been stricken with paralysis while addressing a Progressive party rally in this city. He was fifty-five years old.

Mr. Woodruff came of good Connecticut stock, and arrived in New York in 1880 at the age of twenty-two years with no capital nor prospective backing other than diplomas from Yale and a business college and a clear cut purpose to apply himself to commercial life and watch for opportunities.

Seventeen years later he was lieutenant governor of New York, a partner in the house in which he first found employment at eight dollars a week, the head of an insurance company and of a patent medicine company, director in various banking and industrial corporations and a leader in Republican politics.

The fortune he had acquired in this period was augmented in later years by the extension of his activities until they included real estate operations on a large scale, notably the promotion of the Garden City and Jamaica properties. His political ambitions also grew, and in 1900 he had the backing of the New York state delegation for the vice-presidential nomination at the Republican national convention, in Philadelphia.

BREAK WITH HUERTA

PRESIDENT WILSON SENDS MEXICAN WORD OF HORROR OVER USURPATION OF POWER.

U. S. WARSHIPS WILL FOLLOW

Lind Likely to Return When War-Lend Republic's Chief Replies to Warning He Calls "Intemperate"—Cabinet Is Alert.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The United States government informed President Huerta of Mexico Tuesday that it looked with abhorrence and amazement on his assumption of both executive and legislative powers, and that in view of his course it could not regard as constitutional the elections planned for October 26.

Two notes were sent to Huerta, one strongly phrased and written by Secretary Bryan, inquiring about the safety of the imprisoned members of the Mexican congress; the other drawn in forceful language by President Wilson himself and said to constitute probably the last efforts of the Washington government to deal with the Huerta authorities by diplomatic means unless there is a decided change of spirit on the part of the officials in Mexico City.

The negotiations through John Lind had proceeded to the point where the state department accepted the indorsement of Federico Gamboa for the presidency as meaning the elimination of Huerta, and where it was confidently hoped that a fair and free election would be held October 26.

President Wilson has made it clear now, however, that the Washington government, with the events of the last few days—the imprisonment of the deputies and the establishment of a dictatorship by Huerta—has lost all hope of seeing a constitutional election held by the Huerta regime.

The battleships Rhode Island, Nebraska, New Jersey and Virginia of the third division of the Atlantic fleet will leave Hampton Roads October 23 for Mexican waters. They will be commanded by Rear Admiral Clifford J. Bouch on route, but on arrival in the Gulf of Mexico will be turned over to Rear Admiral Fletcher.

The steps taken by the United States were formally communicated to all foreign governments.

Huerta's deposed proclaiming himself in charge of the departments of interior, administration, finance and war were received during the day and the text was given out at the state department. The documents were read at the cabinet meeting. Members of the cabinet expressed themselves as astonished at the audacity of Huerta. They were appalled by President Wilson's nature of the two communications sent to Huerta through Charge O'Shaughnessy and all approved the vigorous representations.

The cabinet meeting was about to adjourn when press dispatches announced that Senor Querido Moheno, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, had characterized the American communication as "intemperate."

Telegrams from Charge O'Shaughnessy to the state department on Monday brought confirmation of the death of Senator Dominguez, whose body was found in the woods of the suburbs of the Mexican capital Saturday.

He was arrested upon Huerta's order in September for delivering a fiery speech in the Mexican senate. He disappeared soon after his arrest.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan regard the assassination of Senator Dominguez as parallel with that of former President Madero. The news was astounding and dazed the president and secretary of state. Both believe that Senator Dominguez was murdered because of his political stand, and while they have no proof, they feel that Huerta is at the bottom of the murder.

A telegram received at the state department states that no harm has yet befallen the hundred deputies, all of whom still are in prison. The dispatch did not indicate a possibility of their being released any time soon.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy repeated his warning that the deputies stand in imminent danger of losing their lives because of their political faith and the fact that they oppose the administration of President Huerta.
