$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Wheelbarrows of Shantung.

The wheelbarrow is the most common medium of transportation in Shantung. The load is balanced about the wheel so that the workman does not have to carry a portion of the load as is the case with the American wheelbarrow. Some wheelbarrows have but one push man, some have a pulling man as well; some have one, two and three donkeys to aid in the pulling and some are equipped with a sail to obtain the help of favorable winds. The equipment depends upon the load carried, the maximum load being about a ton. Transportation by wheelbarrow is from five to eight times as expensive as transportation by rail in this province. Thus the native methods of land transportation, even with labor receiving a wage of less than 10 cents gold a day, are costly, disproportionately so as compared with the prices of other commodities. Yet Shantung has tens of thousands of wheelbarrows engaged in traffic. It is easy to appreciate what railroads will mean to the development of this densely populated province.

When Broadway Sleeps.

From 9 to 10 o'clock each night is Broadway's siesta hour. That is when Broadway is most deserted. Theater goers are all in their seats, cafes are nearly or quite deserted and taxicabs are idle. Chauffeurs spend the time tinkering with their machines or lolling on the front seats, cigarettes dully glowing between their lips. Bartenders idly spend the sixty minutes polishing up the glasses, brushing off the top of the mahogany and swapping yarns. Theater ushers make the back row seats look as though the S. R. O. sign was out in front. Cabaret performers rest tired voices. Policemen, ticket speculators, hotel page boys, switchboard girls, all rest. The night is half done, but the real work has not yet begun. From 10 o'clock on the scene rapidly shifts. First come the visitors who like to watch the crowds, then the theaters add their hundreds and thousands, and soon the greatest street in all the world shakes off its lethargy and pop! Broadway's awake.—New York World.

Burmans and Tigers.

Sir H. Thirkell White in his book, "A Civil Servant in Burma," tells the following true tiger stories to illustrate the bravery of the Burman:

"One day a tiger came upon two little girls in the jungle, seized the younger and was trotting off with her. The elder sister, a girl of about twelve, took off her tunic (skirt) and flapped the tiger about the face till the astonished beast dropped the child and fled. The truth of this story is proved by the fact that the government gave the girl a silk tunic in recognition of her courage and presence of mind. Another time, quite recently, a woodman was seized by a tiger. He cut at him with his da (knife) till the tiger dropped him and retreated. The man, enraged at being attacked, followed and slashed him again, his only weapon being a long wood cutting knife."

A Mistake.

In England they call a "derby" a "bowler," and they say sweet where we say dessert. There's a story about that last difference.

A young Englishman, Lord Lacland, supped at a dance in New York at a small table seating four. At the supper's end one of the two girls at this table rose and began to converse with a friend a few yards away. Just then a servant removed Lord Lacland's "bombe Richelleu" before he had finished it, and the young man cried in a loud voice:

"I say, where's my sweet?"

The young lady who had risen from his table blushed, and, frowning at him coldly, she said:

"I'm not your sweet, Lord Lacland."—Exchange.

Always.

Somebody is always fooling the public and making money at it.

There is always something for Wall street to worry about.

Some woman is always stirring up a row because she wants to be president of something.

Something is always about to be done to reduce the cost of living.

Somebody is always trying to get something for nothing and being disappointed.

Something is always interfering with our plans to save money.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Giants and Pigmys.

It is also a noteworthy fact that both giants and dwarfs are the offspring of parents of normal height.
