

GRUNDY COUNTY

FROM MORRIS

WILLIAM LEWIS SUFFERS LOSS—MRS. BUTTERFIELD LAID TO REST
INDIAN SKELETON EXCAVATED—ROY HARVEY APPOINTED
CITY PLUMBER—MRS. McDONALD LEAVES FOR NEW JERSEY.

Friday evening the Morris five bested the Coal City boys by a score of 30 to 22, with Gleghorn at center for Morris.

Friday was visiting day at the Center School and a large number of friends enjoyed a program and exhibits of pupils.

Another Indian skeleton was unearthed Saturday where the men are excavating for the new building just south of the Gazette office.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Butterfield was held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 from the M. E. Church, Rev. A. C. Geyer officiating. The remains were laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery.

Ed McBride, proprietor of a fashionable tailoring business in Chicago in partnership with his brother, Will, both Morris boys, is back from the trip around the world with the Sox and Giants ball clubs. He was a personal guest of the owner of the Sox. During the trip he picked up two new titles, being spoken of in print now as "Colonel" McBride or the "Duke of Beaufort."

Mrs. Norman Macdonald, formerly Josephine LeRette, who left last week for the home of her sister, in Elizabeth, New Jersey, was delayed many hours by the storm that held up traffic in the east last week. They had to go very cautiously and often encountered fallen telegraph poles on the track. Lights were out at all the stations, only lanterns being in use. She found her sister, Mrs. Fred McCarten, some improved.

Workmen employed in excavating for the new building to be erected south of the Gazette office, came across the skeleton of an Indian buried about three feet below the surface. The skull was broken by a shovel in the hands of one of the men before it was discovered what it was. The bones of the arms and legs were pried out but were in such a state of decay that they were thrown away. A number of teeth were picked up and these were preserved by the finders.

William Lewis, foreman at the Herald suffered a loss by fire Saturday which is a hard blow as well as considerable inconvenience. His household goods were in a car enroute from Belvidere to Morris and in the yards at Chicago the car caught on fire in a wreck. The car and contents were destroyed. Among the furniture was a new dining room suite. He has been here but a short time and has a wife and several children. He was informed of his loss by phone from Chicago yesterday.

With Walter Goode at the helm, A. F. Mallory had his new pay-as-you-enter automobile bus out on the streets Monday afternoon for the first tryout. The car has the entrance at the left of the driver, where a low step makes entrance easy. It seats fifteen passengers who are let out at the rear of the bus through a door that is operated from the front end of the car. It is electrically heated and lighted, being designed and built in the Kilmer shop on West Washington street.

Ray Harvey, newly appointed city plumber, is making a thorough canvass of the city in the interest of the water works department. He is combining meter reading with that of collecting data on the conditions and already has found several leaks. On service and prevented other buildings from catching fire.

Braceville, March 9.—The funeral of Walter Bath, who resides at Braceville, was held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Lewis, his daughter, near Dwight, with whom he made his home, and at 1 p.m., at the Methodist church at this place. Burial was made in the Gardner-Braceville cemetery. Mr. Bath was a former resident and pioneer of this place. He has been sinking gradually and passed his last few days in an unconscious condition. Besides the daughter with whom he lives, he leaves two sons, Will and Frank, and another daughter, Mrs. William Mellish.
