

GRUNDY COUNTY

FROM MORRIS

FORMER GRUNDY COUNTY RESIDENT DIES—RAY GOODE INJURED—REDS DEFEAT PONTIAC—TWO NEW BOATS PASS HERE ON WAY TO GULF—OTHER COUNTY NEWS.

Dan Kutz, of Morris, now deceased, traveled all over the world with Aggie and her lions the animals that killed E. D. Dietrich in a cage in a special animal car at the yards of the Santa Fe railroad at Clark and Sixteenth streets in Chicago, Saturday. Young Kutz took care of the lions of Aggie for two years. His mother who resides in Joliet has a picture of him with his arm around the neck of the cub lion that killed Dietrich.

Ed. Fletcher, W. G. Jones, R. R. Doherty, Dr. A. G. Harrison and F. L. Stephens, members of the school board, went to Des Plaines Monday to look at the high school building of that place. The building is of the same style as our high school and has been remodeled in such a way as to make room for a great many more students. The board may decide on having our school remodeled in the same way.

Ray Goode, aged about 17 years, living on West Washington street, suffered a severe injury Monday afternoon while employed at the Woelfel Leather Co.'s plant. He was engaged in making some repairs on a shafting and was standing astride of a rapidly moving wheel. The belting caught him and a wound about four inches in length was inflicted in the lower abdomen. Dr. Walsh was summoned to attend him, and no serious results are expected, though he had a narrow escape and lost a large quantity of blood.

Morris relatives were notified Saturday of the death of Samuel Belt, at Sidney, Ohio, where he had made his home for the past ten years with a sister. His death was due to old age and he had been failing in health for many months. Mr. Belt resided in Morris for many years and was well known. He was in his 78th year. He is survived by a family of two daughters and two sons. They are Mrs. Ed Johnson and Sam Belt, of Morris; Bert Belt, of Iowa, and Mrs. Davis, of California. The body arrived here Monday evening for burial.

Although the Reds did not play up to their usual form, they had no trouble defeating the Pontiac Indians here Sunday by a score of 5 to 1. Harry Miller was doing the pitching for the Reds and was in fine form, fanning out thirteen of the visitors and allowing only two hits both of them two baggers that with a stronger looking team would have been caught. The Reds saw they had an easy mark and just played strong enough to win. With a better team at the bat Flood and Gleghorn would have been playing deeper and would have had a chance to get the two long hits.

Justice J. H. Alsdurf Saturday morning performed the ceremony that made Harry Eugene Wellman, aged 27, of Joliet, and Miss Godnell Lafren, of the same age and place, husband and wife. Wellman is the son of Lord F. Wellman, a former painter in Morris and well acquainted with the justice who married the couple. In getting the license Wellman admitted that he had been married before and divorced three years ago. "My first wife was a Mormon. I never thought to ask her about her religion before we were married. Some of her ideas about things scared me and I let her go." F. N. Hull and Miss Eva Harrod were the witnesses to the ceremony Saturday morning.

The first evidence of the life of the Chicago, St. Louis & Transportation Company operating a freight line on the canal from Chicago to the Gulf, was seen here Sunday when two steel barges, the "Joliet" and the "Ottawa" and the first of the seven barges belonging to the Chicago, St. Louis & Gulf Transportation Co., to pass through Morris, were tied up at the foot of Liberty street for several hours Sunday morning. The boats attracted considerable attention as they revive hopes of renewed traffic on the canal. Each of the barges will be propelled by its own power—a high power gasoline or oil condenser engine being planned. But one of the two barges that passed through Sunday was fully equipped.

FROM THE COUNTY.

Joe Montgomery, of Verona, was quite badly hurt and undoubtedly would have been seriously injured, if not killed, Thursday when an angry horse bit and struck him. The timely help of another man saved his life. It seems the horse was after another one, and Mr. Montgomery was between them.

Milford Peart, the small boy who was badly injured in a runaway at his home in Goose Lake township, was taken to his home Friday by his uncle, W. O. Dix. The boy is improving slowly and his recovery is thought to be but a matter of time. He still talks with difficulty on account of the injuries to his throat and tongue.

While cranking an automobile Friday night at the home of Henry Gorham in Vienna township, Abel Osmon had the ligaments in his wrist on the right arm broken. It was about 7:30 in the evening and when he cranked the machine it kicked and twisted his arm, resulting in the injury. He is now carrying his arm in a sling.

Henry Bull, of Gardner, narrowly escaped an accident as he crossed between Gardner and Dwight, and was watching a freight train, Monday. He was struck by the passenger train coming from the other way. Fortunately only the front of the auto truck was struck, breaking one wheel and doing some other damage to the machine. The driver escaped unharm. The usual whistle for crossings was not given.

An exciting runaway occurred at the Rock Island depot about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, when a Miss Bowles riding near the Aux Sable, was driving a horse, attached to a buggy, along the street south of the station. The horse became frightened and a line broke, rendering the driver helpless to control the animal. The buggy was badly damaged, the harness broken, and contents of the vehicle distributed promiscuously. Miss Bowles escaped without injury.

Ole Olson who lives on a farm in Saratoga township met with an accident Monday about 5 o'clock. When he saw a storm approaching he went to the barn to shut everything up. He was at the top of a ladder closing a door on the hay loft when the ladder slipped and he fell to the ground. The result was that he broke his right arm shattering it at the forearm and fracturing the elbow. He also injured his back. He walked to the house and Dr. W. E. Walsh was summoned to attend him. An X-ray examination was made and the extent of the fracture was plainly visible.

P. B. "Stavanger Pete" Pedersen is exhibiting a photo postal card received Thursday from a relative in his home town, Stavanger, Norway, of their home church which came into prominence in Grundy and adjacent counties this week through a description of it by Rev. T. Aarrestad. Mr. Aarrestad, who now is visiting his native land, describes it in a letter received here as follows: "At Stavanger last week I visited a very interesting church. The building was put up in 999 according to the inscription above the door. Consequently it is 915 years old. The church has no windows on the north side. The walls are about 1-4 yards thick. A head appears above the door which is believed to represent Olaf Trygvesson whom tradition says built the church. A boy who followed me asked me if I wanted to see the corpses below the floor and I said yes. He secured a lantern and we for some time crawled around among scores and scores of sound sleeping humanity, who have rested here for hundreds of years."

New Hope Presbyterian Church at Coal City was filled, and even standing room was at a premium, Thursday with the sorrowing friends who came to pay their last respects to one of Coal City's best loved and most highly respected citizens, James Ross. The service which was held at 1:30 o'clock was conducted by Rev. Abram J. Van Page of the Campbell Park Church of Chicago, a former pastor of New Hope Church. Rev. Van Page spoke very feelingly of the high type of citizenship and of the splendid character and the sterling qualities of the deceased. A quartette composed of Margaret L. Miller, Beatrice Frye, R. W. Miller and R. E. Miller sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Land of the Infinite" and "My Jesus, As Thou Wilt."

The funeral procession was one of the largest which has ever left the city. The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful—silent testimonies of the great love and esteem in which Mr. Ross was held. The pall bearers were five brothers, Thomas Ross, Andrew Ross, Will Ross, Robert Ross and John Ross, and a nephew, Douglas Ross, of Cincinnati, Iowa. Burial was in Braceville and Gardner cemetery.

Death of Ira Suffern.

On Friday morning the community was shocked on hearing of the sad news of Ira, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Suffern, of this place. On June 10, Ira was among the high school pupils who took part in a patriotic entertainment here, given for the benefit of the school library and while handling a revolver which was loaded with a blank cartridge, he ac-identally shot his left hand through the fleshy part below the index finger. He immediately went to a doctor and he was supposed to be getting along all right until Wednesday when lock-jaw developed rapidly. Everything possible was done for him, but to no avail, and he passed away at nine o'clock Friday morning.

Ira was born in Braceville, Ill., Feb. 4, 1899, and has lived here the greater part of his life, attending the Presbyterian Church and Sunday School. He was a very popular boy, among the older as well as with the younger people; possessed of the talent of a singer he was always ready and willing to assist in many local entertainments here.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the home, Rev. Holt of the Presbyterian Church had charge of the service, assisted by Rev. Rodgers of the M. E. Church. Mrs. R. H. Woodward and Mr. John B. Allison sang "Some Day We'll Understand," "Sweet Peace" and "Face to Face" with Mrs. W. S. Allison as pianist.

The pall bearers were Roy Eldred, Andy Sampson, Russell Magee, Ira Bookwalter, Everett Clover and Chester Jones.

The flower bearers were members of his class in school. The flowers were many and beautiful.

Ira leaves his parents, one sister, Mrs. R. C. Cumming, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. Interment was at the Gardner Braceville cemetery.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
