LIVINGSTON COUNTY GRADUATES GET DIPLOMAS—BOARD OF EDUCATION MEET—MRS. THOS. SCHAFER PASSES AWAY—DEATH CALLS MRS. MATTHEW GLEASON—OTHER NEWS.

At an adjourned meeting of the Pontiac township board of education, it was planned to make considerable improvement to the high school building. Architect R. A. Young was before the board with plans for remodeling the interior and exterior. The board ordered that bids for the work, according to specifications, should be advertised for at once.

The directors of the Automatic Home Telephone Company held their regular semi-annual meeting Friday evening at the offices of the company, at which time the reports of the various officers were read and approved. The reports show that the company has done a very fine business during the past six months and that the system has been extended to cover a considerable territory. The usual semi-annual dividend was declared.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas Schaffer was held from the family home at 514 South Vermillion street at 1:30 Friday afternoon, Rev. J. L. Switzer, resident pastor of the Evangelical Association, had charge of the services. Rev. J. H. Ryan, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, assisting. Dr. H. J. Kelhofer, presiding elder of the Peoria district, preached the sermon. The Erickson quartet rendered a number of selections. The body was laid to rest in Rooks Creek cemetery.

Steve Sotos, who has conducted the ice cream parlor and fruit stand at the corner of Mill and Washington streets for a number of years, on Friday completed a deal whereby he has disposed of it to Peter Sotos and Theodore Georgopolus, who are now in charge. Peter Sotos is quite well known in this city. For a number of years past he has been engaged in conducting several ice cream cone wagons in the city and has been very successful. He has also been associated with S. Sotos at various times in his business. Theodore Georgopolus has been employed by S. Sotos for some time past. Both young men are energetic and should be successful in their venture.

Mrs. Matthew Gleason was called by death at her home, 810 East Water street, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. She had been a constant sufferer for a number of months, having sustained a broken hip by a fall the latter part of last February. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Church, Rev. J. H. Cannon being in charge of the ceremonies. He was assisted by Father Kern, of Budd, and Father Grace, assistant pastor of St. Mary's. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery east of the city. Bridget Flanagan was born in the County Lough, Ireland, eighty-four years ago. She came to America when she was about twenty years old and settled in Livingston county. She was married at Bloomington in 1858 to Matthew Gleason. They went to farming in Eppards Point, where Mr. Gleason died in 1891. The decedent continued to live on the farm until five years ago, when she moved to this city. She is survived by three children, John and Lawrence, of this city, and Miss Elizabeth, who lived with her mother. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Margaret McQueeney, of Owego township.

The program of the twenty-third annual awarding of the diplomas to graduates of the eighth grade in the Livingston county public schools was given at the auditorium at Riverview Park Tuesday afternoon beginning at 1:30 o'clock. The pleasant day and the wide spread interest in the occasion brought people to the city from all parts of the county. A large number of the townships of the county had representatives among the graduates. The program was in charge of W. E. Herbert, county superintendent of schools. The speaker of the afternoon was Prof. John W. Cook, president of the Northern Illinois State Normal school of DeKalb. Medals were presented by Superintendent Arthur Verner, of the Pontiac Township High School, being bestowed in order to J. Harry Schultz, George Llyod Irrgang and Liguori Langan. In the absence of Dr. J. A. Marshall, president of the Pontiac township board of education, Superintendent Verner also presented the township high school scholarships as follows: George Llyod Irrgang, Clara May Bacher, Jeanette Sancken, Leotis E. Young, R. Jennings Harwood. The diplomas to the graduating class were presented by W. E. Herbert.

FROM THE COUNTY.

Arch Dicken, of Cornell, threshed his wheat last week. He had in forty-five acres from which he got 1,160 bushels.

The Fairbury Blade, in its items of twenty years ago published last week, has the following about the long distance bicycle races that were held in those days: "Considerable interest was aroused last Tuesday in the handicap bicycle race of several crack Pontiac cyclists from Fairbury to Pontiac. Joe Lord took the time prize, making the distance in 48:22. Smith got in first, Lord second and Abnett third."

Harry J. Wendel and Miss Hazel Krack, two of Forrest's most popular young people, "put one over" on their friends last Saturday, when they went to Chicago, in which city they were quietly married that evening. The announcement came as a complete surprise to even their most intimate friends, who were not aware of their intentions. No details have been learned as to the plans of the young people, but it is understood that they left Chicago for a short trip to Detroit and other points in Michigan, after which they will return to Forrest to make their home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wendel are well known and popular, having spent their entire lives in this community. The bride is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Krack, and the groom the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wendel, and is associated with his father in the grain and coal business.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Dawson died at her home in Long Point at 4:10 o'clock Friday morning. About two years ago she sustained a paralytic stroke, since which time she had been failing gradually. She became seriously ill about seven days ago from heart trouble and was obliged to take to her bed. Sarah Ann Slaughter was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Slaughter, of Coshocton, O., where she was born seventy-six years ago. She was married there to George Washington Dawson, who died sixteen years ago. Thirteen children were born to this union, seven of them surviving, viz: Mrs. Belle Willowize, of Leeds; Mrs. Sarah Ellie, of Perry, Ia.; Mrs. Katie Ellie, of Boise, Idaho; G. A. and Marcus Dawson, of Long Point, and Ira and Harley Dawson, of Streator. In the year 1861 the family moved from Ohio to Illinois and located in Wenona and then Long Point, where she had since resided. She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and of the Long Point Christian Church.

IS PRAISED BY REVIEWERS

Our New Serial Enthusiastically Indorsed by Critics of Prominent Newspapers.

"The Lapse of Enoch Wentworth," by Isabel Gordon Curtis, one of the most gifted of American fiction writers, will be published serially in these columns, and will prove a rare treat for every reader. The following are but a few of the hundreds of enthusiastic comments on the story from the reviewers:

It holds the interest to the end.—Dallas News.

This novel, which has a well-thought-out plot, is strikingly dramatic in its developments. The story is a strong one, the action rapid, the characters exceptionally well portrayed. Tense to the end, it holds the reader's interest.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A dramatic and exciting romance.—Hartford Courant.

A story well worth reading.—Boston Times.

It is a story written solely for the diversion of the reader and it achieves its purpose; no one is likely to go to bed and leave its perusal half completed.—Toronto Mail.

The story has a high moral purpose. Montreal Star.

A vital, lively story of the drama and the stage. Of high purpose and of skilful, enthusiastic inspiration. It is a bright, fascinating story, told with a thoroughly admirable skill and dash.—Salt Lake City Tribune.

A story which does not let interest lag for one moment.—Savannah News.

Originality of conception is the strongest characteristic in this novel.—Des Moines Capital.

It is an extraordinarily unreal sort of plot, which works itself out into very real situations.—Chicago Evening Post.

A Smile in the Wash

YOU'LL always wear a smile wash day instead of the old worn-out look, if you let a Rumely-Olds gasoline engine do the drudgery. Just put the soiled clothes in the machine, start the engine, and after a few minutes run them through the wringer which is also turned by the engine. And there are a dozen other trying tasks about the house which the engine will do easily. We have an engine to fit your farm—sizes 1½ to 65 h. p.

Drop in soon and see our Rumely-Olds engines. Or let us know and we'll send a catalog to you.

We're here to serve you. Give us a chance.
