WM. WILSON TO STUDY IN CHICAGO—S. C. LAMSON MEETS WITH ACCIDENT—CAREY & SEABERT TAKE POSSESSION—CITY PUMP BREAKS—J. L. BONAR FILES PETITION.

Will Wilson, of the W. T. Ostrem jewelry store, has made arrangements for a month's school in a Chicago engraving house where he will spend the month of August learning the fine points of commercial engraving as applied to the jewelry trade. One of the unusual things about this schooling will be that he will make Morris his home as at present, going and coming daily—a trip of 125 miles to and from school.

The new firm, Carey & Seabert Bros. from Dwight took possession Monday of the clothing store of Israel Meyer & Sons which they purchased a few days ago and are now doing business. Elmer Seabert, Matt Carey, Milton Meyer and Michael Carey will be the permanent salesmen in the store. Elmer Fedderson from the Dwight store was here Monday to assist and James Seabert of the same place will be here about three days a week. They are all very pleasant and business-like men and it is a pleasure to meet them.—Ex.

Monday forenoon S. C. Lamson, the tinner, met with a peculiar accident which will prevent him from working for some time. He was working on an eave trough on a small house belonging to A. H. Hilliker at the corner of Spruce and Benton streets and a short ladder set on the porch. He was at the top of it leaning over the eave at his work. More of his weight coming above the eave than below it, the ladder slipped from under him. He fell twelve feet striking on the edge of the porch while in a semisitting posture. The lowest bone in the spinal column was fractured, a part being broken off. Dr. W. E. Walsh was called and removed the injured man to his home where he will be required to keep very quiet.

J. L. Bonar filed his petition Wednesday as republican candidate for county treasurer. Judge Bedford and A. J. Smith will refile their petitions for county judge so as to conform with the law and avoid any technicality which may arise. The heading on their petitions will be made to read for Grundy county instead of each page being devoted to the several townships as they now are. Friday is the last day for filing and aside from the republican candidates all is quiet in the other political camps.

Mrs. William Hamilton, aged 85, her daughter Mrs. Lillie Davidson and Mrs. Tom Davidson, her niece, Wednesday spent the day at Starved Rock, the trip taking all day. After the ride across the Illinois in the ferry boat, into which Mrs. Hamilton found her place without assistance and left it also without a helping hand, she expressed a desire to go at once to the top of Starved Rock, the highest point with but one exception in the state of Illinois. She immediately set out on the high climb with the younger women who accompanied her. Not a stop was necessary in the ascent to rest her, and on reaching the summit Mrs. Hamilton was able to carry on a conversation without difficulty showing no shortness of breath nor fatigue. In fact she jokingly told her "children" that they were more badly done up than she was by the climb.

James C. Lietzell, who was acquitted at the last term of circuit court on a charge of bigamy after a sensational trial, was in the city Wednesday, coming down from Plainfield to pick up his effects at a local boarding house where he stopped on his release from custody following his trial. He is just out of a hospital at Aurora where he has been for a month recovering from a major operation in which he had his appendix and six gall stones removed. He sent word to friends here immediately after gaining his freedom. After four months of only light work while in the keeping of the sheriff he overdid himself at blacksmithing bringing on the trouble. When stricken, he left, leaving everything just as it was in his room. After six or eight more weeks rest at his brother's home in Plainfield he hopes to return to his Morris position. The job here will kept open for him.

The electric apparatus at the city pumping station which broke Monday night was repaired Wednesday and put into commission again, but scarcely had it started when it broke down again.

The pump is now being withdrawn from the well and a new one will be put in. The water supply of the city by these accidents is considerably curtailed and a careful use of it by the public is urged. Sprinkling is absolutely prohibited and anyone found doing this at the present time, the water supply will be shut off.

FROM THE COUNTY.

In the tennis tournament at Mazon Tuesday Morris was the winner in all events. After the game the players enjoyed a big feed. Those who played from Morris were Ed Garrity, Robt. Powers, Sandy Wood, Carl Woelfel and Russel Greeg. From Mazon, Gardle Clapp, Clarence Grenell, Wilbur Isham, Earl Blair and Mr. Clark.

Rudolph Barys, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Barys, died at his home here Monday morning about 11:30 o'clock after an illness of about two weeks. Mr. Barys while at work for the E. J. & E. railway at Joliet, fell a short time ago, breaking his wrist. About two weeks ago he was taken sick with typhoid fever, later developing a weak heart and dropsy, which caused his death. He is survived by his father and mother, one sister, Rose, and two brothers, James and Frank. The funeral was held at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with burial in the Braidwood cemetery.

Carl Johnson, aged 80, died at 2 p.m. Monday at his home in Old Mazon after a long and painful illness with cancer of the face. Late in June he entered a hospital in La Salle where he underwent an operation but his life could not be saved. Mr. Johnson was 80 years of age and has resided in Grundy county some thirty years, three of which were spent in Gardner. He followed the occupation of a tiler and by his thrift and industry managed to acquire a little home place in the village where he passed away. He leaves a wife and one married daughter, who lives at home.

Tlohi Kaliwoski, aged 42, and Miss Mary Zeckack, both of Wilmington Saturday appeared in Morris and made application for a marriage license—the first since July 8. In answering the necessary questions required by law, the bride-groom-to-be let it be known that this is his third leap into a matrimonial bark. One of his former wives died and the other got a divorce. County Judge George Bedford performed the marriage ceremony that united the couple. Reports do not include an account of his having presented them with a picture of the courthouse and the presiding judge of the county court. Some say 'twas because both reside in Will county.

When Dennis Ryan, a prominent young man, of Kinsman, took unto himself a bride three weeks ago, he got up early in the morning, the couple made their way to the church and were married and out of town in an auto while the populace of Kinsman still slumbered. When his friends found themselves thus outwitted there was much low talking and looks of determination on faces. Dennis has always been considered the practical joker of the village. The couple arrived home Saturday evening. Some bold men grabbed Dennis and forcibly placed him on a burro and the crowd followed down Main street and burro and all made the rounds of the saloons and soft drink parlors. Several times he tried to escape, but failed. Later in the evening he was kidnapped by an auto load of Kinsman men and taken to Streator. All night long while his bride anxiously awaited him and while he begged to go home the kidnapers proceeded to collect the ransom. About daybreak he was brought back much the worse for wear.

Years ago—so many years that only some of the oldest inhabitants can remember, and before public cemeteries were set aside, when deaths occurred in families, private pastures were used for burying places. An example of one of these lies on Burroughs estate about five miles southeast of Seneca, in Grundy county, along the river bottom. Here half a dozen tombstones still are standing, after more than half a century. The graves are without an exception, those of children. The names may be remembered by the older people but to the younger generation the names are strange. The names include: Tresdell, son of T. and E. Bunch, died 1860, aged 10 months 26 days. James B., son of T. and E. Bunch, died 1857, aged 15 days. Isabelle, daughter of T. and E. Bunch, died 1861, aged 6 months, 26 days. Levi L., son of H. P. and B. Robins, died 1860, aged 4 years. Flory S., daughter of J. W. and M. Combs, died 1863, aged 6 months, 8 days. Sarah J., daughter of H. P. and B. Robins, died 1858. Aged 1 month.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the body strength to build up the constitution and assist nature in doing its work. The proprietors have much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for its testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
