

The Trifling Sum of One Cent will buy Considerable Electric Service

It will pay for electricity sufficient to operate a 16 candle power carbon lamp 2 hours, or a 20 candle power Tungsten 4 hours, or a sewing machine motor 1 hour, or a vacuum cleaner 45 minutes, or a washing machine 30 minutes, or keep a six pound flatiron hot 30 minutes or make 6 cups of coffee in an electric percolator, or cook a welsh rarebit in a chafing dish, or make 15 slices of toast.

Electric Service is a Luxury in Everything but Cost.

Maid Employed by Janesville Family Says:

"I wouldn't work in a home where there was not a Caloric. There is a Caloric where I am now and I have about twice as much time to myself as I used to have. I can go to church every Sunday now. I put the family dinner in the Caloric right after breakfast, and when I return from church, it's all ready to put on the table and it's never underdone nor burned."

The time and money that a Caloric Fireless Cook Stove will save you, the thoroughness with which it will cook your food, not to mention the many delightful ways in which you can employ the time previously employed in standing over the kitchen stove—all these considerations are certain to make of you an enthusiastic advocate of the Caloric once you have used it in your home. C. M. Baker & Son can supply you with a Caloric.—Adv.

ONE TIME DWIGHT RESIDENT DEAD.

Mrs. Jas. G. Strong Dies at Home of Her Daughter in Pontiac.

There passed away at Pontiac at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Z. T. Trumbo, at the Reformatory, August 4, at 11:30 p. m., Rebecca M. Witt, the widow of James G. Strong, deceased.

Mrs. Strong was born in Lebanon, Ind., April 24, 1838, being 76 years, 3 months and 11 days old at the time of her death. She was married to James G. Strong in Lebanon, Ind., April 25, 1859. They came to this county that spring and made their home in Dwight for many years, going thence to Kansas, where Mr. Strong died some years ago. Since that time Mrs. Strong has made her home among her children, all of whom survive her, being Mrs. F. B. Chester, of Valparaiso, Ind.; Mrs. Z. T. Trumbo, of Pontiac, and James G. Strong, of Blue Rapids, Kan.

There are ten grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mrs. Strong was all her life an ardent, earnest, conscientious member of the M. E. Church, a good neighbor, a loving mother and friend. All her children attended the funeral services at the residence of Assistant Superintendent Z. T. Trumbo, at the Reformatory at 4 p. m., Wednesday, which were conducted by Chaplain E. W. Anabel.

Her two daughters and son left Pontiac on the Alton Hummer Wednesday evening, bearing her remains to Blue Rapids, Kan., where they will be placed by the side of her husband.

Those who attended the obsequies besides the children of the deceased were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Chester and Mrs. W. A. Empie, of Dwight; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Strong, of Urbana, Ill.

A Milwaukee Housewife Says:

"I have had my Caloric two months and I find my gas bill is a little less than one-third what it used to be and my meat and grocery bill about 60% of what it was. The Caloric saves fully half the gas, because a Caloric radiator absorbs enough heat in a few minutes to furnish cooking heat for hours and hours and, it saves a great deal of food, because there is less evaporation in cooking and because I can buy cheaper cuts of meat. My husband says that he would rather eat chuck beef, cooked in the Caloric, than prime beef roasted in a gas oven—and there's a difference in price of eight or ten cents a pound.

You may publish this letter if you wish. I am sure if women only knew what the Caloric would mean to them, in the way of money and time saved and food cooked fit for eating, they would have your factory people working nights to supply the demand. The Caloric is sold by C. M. Baker & Son.—Adv.

JAMES KELAGHER,
President Village Board.

Day by Day.

We live by days. They are the leaves folded back each night in the great volume that we write. They are our autobiography. Each day takes us not newly, but as a tale continued. It finds us what yesterday left us; and as we go on, every day is telling to every other day truths about us, showing the kind of being that is to be handed on to it, making of us something better or something worse, as we decide.—J. F. Ware.

Fairly Warned.

One of Australia's best landscape painters was out with his bag of tricks near Daylesford recently. He had pitched in front of an old, two roomed, wattle and dab hut, softened with a crimson flowered creeper, which he thought would make an excellent sketch. While he was working a tall, hairy man came out of the hut and regarded him with some misgiving. The hut dweller approached. "Watcher don't, mister?" he said.

"I'm painting your picturesque dwelling," said Patterson.
The hut dweller regarded Patterson dubiously for a minute, then went indoors. Presently he reappeared with his wife, and the two advanced toward the artist. "Mind yeh," said the man, pointing at the painter. "I've got me witness. You're doin' this at your own expense."

Asiatics Use Goatskin Churns.

Goatskin churns are the proper thing in the Asiatic deserts. They are the unique butter making contrivances of the world. These churns resemble gigantic footballs, varying in size according to the extent of the family. They are constructed of goatskin sewed together in the form of a ball, with the hair side in. Cream is run into these bags until they are about half full, and the balance of the space is filled with air from the churner's lungs. Then these churns are suspended from three sticks and a rocking motion begun. The air on the inside is calculated to aid coaxing the butter from the cream. After churning the product is strained through cloth, for the goat's hair has a tendency to shed during the violent operations.

A Book She Wouldn't Read.

"There is one book of Mr. Stevenson's that I myself have never read," said Mrs. Stevenson once. "I refused to read it and held to my refusal. I make it a rule never to read a novel the scene of which is laid in a bygone age. The author always deems it his duty to make his characters talk in what he considers the language of that period, and I am always sure that he doesn't know positively how they did talk, so I won't read such books. I would never read the 'Black Arrow,' and Mr. Stevenson thought it such a good joke that he insisted upon dedicating it to me."

Squelched.

Prosperous Young Actor (returning tired after a matinee and evening performance of successful play)—Ah, dear boys, I really think it's time all good actors were in bed. Grumpy Tragedian (looking up from his paper)—They are.—Exchange.

A Hint to the Old Man.

"I hope you appreciate the fact, sir, that in marrying my daughter you marry a large hearted and generous girl."

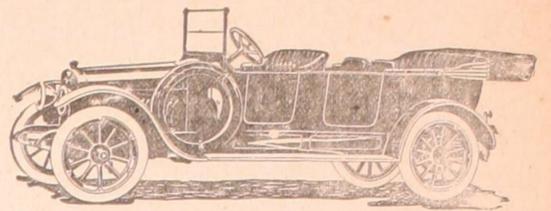

"I do, sir," with emotion. "and I hope she inherits those qualities from her father."

An Unfortunate Misunderstanding.

"I had to leave my last situation because the missus said they were going to lead the sinful life, and they wouldn't want any servants about the place."—London Punch.

HUDSON SIX-40 For 1915

With 31 New Features
NEW PRICE $1,550 F. O. B. DETROIT

Your Model Car At an Unexpected Price

The HUDSON Six-40 for 1915 brings out 32 surprises. There are 31 new features—each an important refinement. And there is a new price—$200 less than last year—due to a trebled output.

This new-type Six came out last year to mark the HUDSON conception of the coming car. The HUDSON Engineers—headed by Howard E. Coffin—had devoted three years to the model.

By clever designing and better materials they attained a remarkable lightness. By a new-type motor they reduced operative cost about 30 per cent under former cars of like capacity.

It was the handsomest car of the year.

It offered many new ideas in equipment.

And the price—$1,750—was the lowest price quoted on a quality car, either Fours or Sixes. That car was so welcome that the enormous factory output was 3,000 cars oversold.

31 Refinements

Now these same engineers—48 of them—have spent a whole year on refinements. The new model—for 1915—with 31 important improvements.

The output has been trebled. And the quantity saving—$200 per car—has been taken from the price.

Now this quality Six—the finest HUDSON production—sells for $1,550, f. o. b. Detroit.

This new HUDSON Six-40 will meet your ideals of a car. There was never built at any price a more exquisite Six. It will place any four-cylinder car out of the question at a price above $1,200.

This new model arrives here soon. Don't buy until you see it.
