

GRUNDY COUNTY

FROM MORRIS

BOARD ON IMPROVEMENTS MEET—CORONER'S JURY GIVE VERDICT—MORRIS A. F. & A. M. LODGE WILL HOLD PICNIC—BENJAMIN BEASLY MARRIES—OTHER COUNTY NEWS.

Benjamin F. Beasley, Jr., well known young man of Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Beasley, Sr., was married Wednesday afternoon at Marseilles to Miss Irene Elizabeth Adler, of that city. The young lady is well known in Marseilles and has a host of friends. The groom for several years, when at school, was one of the trusted carrier boys of The Morris Herald. His many friends wish him joy in married life.

The board of local improvements met Saturday morning and adopted resolutions to grade Calhoun street, put in a new curb and oil it from Washington street to Jackson. The residents on that street who wanted a block paved have not been heard from and if not, it will be paved with brick. The grade curb and oil idea will make the street ready for paving at any time and the cost is only 20 cents a front foot.

Announcement has been made by the committee in charge of the annual basket picnic of Cedar Lodge, No. 124, A. F. & A. M., that it will be held in Goad's Park on Labor Day, Monday, September 7. All kinds of sports have been planned for the day and those who have charge of the details are working hard getting the affair arranged. The big event of the day will be the ball game between the Morris and Joliet lodges. Both teams have a strong line-up, and a good game is looked for.

The coroner's jury composed of Dr. A. G. Harrison, E. S. Fetler, William Robinson, W. O. Dix, Thomas Pattison and Frank Cooper empaneled Friday night by Coroner Sachse to inquire into the death of Burnett Peterson met in Davis Sons undertaking parlors. After hearing the testimony of Arthur Higgins, George Bingham, James Brady, Bert Francis and Leo Baker the jury returned a verdict that Peter Burnett Peterson came to his death accidentally from injuries sustained in being struck by an automobile driven by Leo Baker about 10 a. m. Wednesday. The witnesses testified that the auto was going east on the south side of the street near the curbing and a rig in which witnesses were riding on the north side while the unfortunate boy and others were playing in the middle of the road. Efforts were made to attract the boy's attention to the auto but they believe he became confused and ran into the machine without seeing it. They were all of the opinion that Baker done all he could to avoid the accident.

FROM THE COUNTY.

As stated in the columns of The Herald Saturday evening, what was thought to be symptoms of lock jaw in the Ed Fellingham case at the hospital proved to be such, and from this dreaded disease he died at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Everything was done by physicians at his side to prevent the further development of the malady after he began to complain of a sore throat and a stiff neck early Saturday morning. It was useless and the valiant struggle that he had made for the eleven days before his death came to a close. Deceased was 50 years old. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. Interment in Ward cemetery.

The arrangements for the third annual Gleaners picnic at the Gleaners park in Goodfarm Sept. 2 have all been made. Neither money nor time will be spared to maintain the high standing this occasion has built up in the last two years. The best speakers, readers, singers, music and amusements that can be had will be there. Dinner and supper will be served in the nice cool basement dining room. Good shade, good water and refreshments of every kind. Watch for the booster advertisements. Read the hand bills which explain everything. One of the best ball games of the season will be played, Morris vs. Goodfarm.

Death of Mrs. Margaret Jenkins.

The community was shocked on Saturday evening to learn of the death of Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, who passed away very suddenly at her home in Gardner.

Mrs. Margaret Williams-Jenkins was born at Murphyttsville, Wales, Nov. 22, 1842, and died at her home in Gardner, Ill., Aug. 8, 1914, age 72 years, 8 months and 17 days. She leaves to mourn her departure three sons, Jacob, of Chicago; William, of Joliet, and Llewellyn, of Orient, Ill., and three daughters, Mrs. Anna Lewis, of Miles, Wash.; Mrs. Bessie Jones, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Mayme Schultz, of Reddick, Ill.

Grandma Jenkins, as she was familiarly known, was a very devoted christian, although badly crippled with rheumatism, yet she could be seen on Sunday morning nobbling off to church; her religion was not found in fine constructed phrases, but in a rich abundant life. Her life was a life of prayer, prayer for her children and outsiders, extremely interested in bringing souls into the kingdom of God. The chief joy to her was the news that a soul had been won for eternity. She was a living example of Christ's Love, and keeping power, which made her a great asset to the Presbyterian Church, to which she belonged for several years, and as her pastor has said of her, she prayed for souls as few do, she saw the future unclouded, she died suddenly as was her wish.

The funeral was held at the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday at one o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Holt, the choir rendering the following, "Rock of Ages," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." The pall bearers were Wm. Young, J. C. Lutz, Chas. Drew, Albert Grinter, Thos. Blake and H. A. Eversole. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, the flower bearers being Miss Elma Jeffers, Mary Hansen, Martha Gaston, Anna Hanson, Laura and Cora Wolcott.

When 19 years old, Edwin accompanied his father and family to Western Iowa in which state he resided for about twenty years. While a resident of Iowa, he was married to Anna Gould, this happy union being broken by the untimely death of his wife but a few years after their marriage.

Suits will Predominate This Fall

In a letter received from Miss Donahue, who is in New York buying for the fall trade, she says that, although coats will be popular this year, suits will be much more worn. And we really can't blame the women for liking the suits. Each year we wonder if the limit in beautiful suits has not been reached but the next year they are made still more beautiful.

Our suits are arriving every day and you should see the way the women grow enthusiastic when they see them. We are selling them almost as fast as they come.
