Tonic of Outdoor Life.

Outdoor life, contact with the earth, the digging, the wheeling of a barrow, the quiet contemplation of unfolding animal and plant life, are better tonics and restorers than any man has devised.

There was one gardener who did wonders for himself at the very prosaic task of digging holes. Through a period of three years he dug 400 holes for trees and shrubs. He was three times as strong, he asserted, at the expiration of that time than ever before, and he weighed twenty pounds more.

During all that time he had been working in the open air he had "found"—although this particular gardener was no poet, and didn't express it in just this fashion—"tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything," including himself.—New York Post.

Sea Mussels as Food.

The sea mussel is closely related to the oyster and the clam. It is not, however, to be confused with the fresh water mussel. As a nutritious and wholesome food it is equal to either the oyster or the clam, and many persons regard it as superior in flavor. The mussels exist in such abundance in such readily accessible places, and they are so readily obtained by the oysterman's regular equipment, that they can be put upon the market at lower cost than can either oysters or clams. They are at their best, moreover, when oysters are out of season, though they are in season all the year round.

Getting It Spread Wrong.

"I have read every book on agriculture that I can find," said the amateur farmer, "and still I don't manage to get crops." "There's the trouble," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "You're putting all the cultivation on yourself instead of on the land."

You need this paper and we need the money. Let's trade.

When Tailor Lost Customer.

Biggs, previously a comparatively poor man, had come into a big fortune, so he set about doing things in grand style. Ordering some clothes from his tailor, he told him he would send round his coachman to be measured for a livery.

The tailor scented good business, and, thinking his customer would not be proof against flattery, he said: "Don't you think, sir, it would be nice to have your crest stamped on your coachman's buttons?" "Crest!" roared the indignant Mr. Biggs. "What do I or my servants want with crests? D'ye take us for a family of cockatoos?"

Hookworm Easily Cured.

In some regions in Porto Rico it is estimated that not more than thirty-three per cent of the natural efficiency of any force of men can be exercised because of the terrible problem of hookworm disease. Yet science has demonstrated that hookworm disease is about the most easily mastered of all the diseases in the category. It is easily cured, because in most cases simply a dose of epsom salts, followed by a dose of thymol, and that in turn by another dose of salts, is effective. Thymol is made from the common thyme of the garden.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are frequently symptoms of kidney trouble, and a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys should be taken in time.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy to use. It has acted effectively in many cases in this vicinity.

Can Dwight residents demand further proof than the following testimonial?

Capt. S. M. Witt, ex-chief of police, 603 W. Grove St., Pontiac, Ill., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent kidney and backache remedy. I have used them for lame and weak back and they have given me great relief. I don't hesitate to recommend this remedy, for I have found that it acts as represented."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Capt. Witt had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv. 37

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen;" you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300% stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.
