

LOOKING BACK into area history this week we find a glimpse of Gardner's central business section, which burned in January 1909. Below that, we find a view of Spencer's Hay Press factory, which stood on Dwight's southwestern side, about where the Garrett Park softball diamonds now stand. (Cards courtesy Glen Thomas)

