

A RARE EARLY PHOTO of what must have been West Main street in Dwight about 1868 was brought to the Star and Herald office several years ago by the late Oscar Jensen. It was decided the picture was of West Main and of approximately 1868 vintage because of advertisements in the Dwight Star that year which were carried for the Dwight House [Hotel] which appears at the center of the picture, the Livery Stable [at right behind carriages and wagons] and for H. H. Ashley, photographer, whose name appears on the back of the photo.
