A SAD ACCIDENT

On last Friday Mr. Henry M' Donald; a young man of worth and promise, while in the act of oiling some part of a Threshing machine, got the sleeve of his left arm entangled, which drew the arm at once through some cog-wheels breaking the bones and severing the hand entirely. Amputation higher up, was found necessary, performed by our physicians. Mr. M' Donald was doing well at last accounts.

Three cases of genuine Asiatic cholera are reported in Wilmington last week, two deaths resulting.

The proprietors of the sash and blind factory are receiving orders, their mill is in full operation

They have just received in Portland, Main, the largest sweet potato ever raised on the island of Cuba. It weighs forty pounds, is twenty-four inches long, nine inches in diameter, and twenty-nine inches in circumference.

A lady recently stopped at an Indianapolis hotel, and, on retiring for the night, blew out the gas. If she had not fortunately left the windows open, and the other guests had not got on "the scent," she would most probably been "blown out" herself.

Gen. Devin reports the result of forty days' scouting against Indians in Arizona. The force employed consisted of one hundred cavalry, fifty infantry and four guides. Parties of Indians were discovered in different localities, but fled at the approach of the troops. The pack train suffered very severely, and a quantity of rations were lost.

The concluding words of a Utah obituary notice are very pathetic; "He leaves thirteen widows and fifty-four children to mourn his loss."
