SUGAR PILLS.

The abandoned, diabolical, sinister libertine, and scurrilous fortune hunter, who so assiduously reported about our streets that he had been to Odell and unaided and alone defended a man against a criminal charge, and cleared him; appears to be a WILFUL LIAR: this corresponding with other statements made by him. The facts are, when at Odell attending this suit, he was assisted by one of our best attorneys, and instead of acquitting the man he was bound over to appear at this term of court. And further, while this beautiful small pill scrub was addressing the court it is said there, that he was in state of almost beastly intoxication, and the Justice said he would have fined the drunken wretch for contempt had he not been a stranger.

STRANGE TASTE.

Can it be possible that our town Trustees are victims of misplaced confidence, by receiving into their counsels that whisky soaked and fusil oil saturated debauchee, who so lately united himself with the Good Templars, and has been constantly violating his solemn obligation ever since who in the first instance was the best patron the whisky-shop keepers had, until his O U's became so numerous that they would not pass for the poorest distillation.

A CARNAL wretch and a coward, who taking advantage of Peter Nelsons absence, tried to outrage his wife, and who was only prevented by the screams of the woman which brought timely assistance. We ask again, is it possible that this lecherous and libidinous miscreant has wormed himself into the confidence of the town Trustees, with a view to official position? We will publish some affidavits next week from some of the most respectable citizens of the place showing how much respect he has for the solemn obligation he took upon himself when he joined the Good TEMPLARS—

A BLISTER.

The poor death-bound and drunken wretch who has plastered himself upon this community, first as a bleary-eyed Democratic oracle and afterwards as an advocate of virtue, finds it rather hard to serve God and mammon at the same time.
